

	True	False
Sparta was a democracy?
Athens focused on warfare rather than education?
Girls were to be educated in Sparta and Athens?

WAGOLL:

I would rather have resided in Sparta because I value the importance of warfare. Sparta, would make you a resilient character due to the upbringing of the children. For example, Sparta was a city focused on obedience and war. As a result, boys did not have to be educated yet they would have great importance on training to be influential warriors. It was compulsory for boys to join the army on the other hand, I would not be educated so I would struggle to articulate and read however I could fight.
